Risks of Investing

Please read the following carefully.

The fund's investment objectives, risks, charges, and expenses must be considered carefully before investing. The prospectus contains this and other important information about the investment company, and it may be obtained by calling (806) 323-8000, or visiting www.abrahamtrading.com. Read it carefully before investing.

Mutual fund investing involves risk; Principal loss is possible. Investments in debt securities involve credit risk and typically decrease in value when interest rates rise. Investments in lower rated and nonrated securities involve greater risk. Investments in foreign securities involve political, economic, and currency risks, greater volatility, and differences in accounting methods. Derivatives may involve certain costs and risks such as liquidity, interest rate, market, credit, management, and the risk that a position could not be closed when most advantageous. Investing in derivatives could lose more than the amount invested. The Fund may use leverage which may cause the effect of an increase or decrease in the value of the portfolio securities to be magnified and the Fund to be more volatile than if leverage was not used. The Fund invests in small and mid-cap companies, which involve additional risks such as limited liability and greater volatility than large-cap companies. Investments related to gold are considered speculative and are affected by a variety of worldwide economic, financial, and political factors. The price of gold may fluctuate sharply over short periods of time, even during periods of rising prices. Full descriptions of risk factors can be found in the fund's prospectus at this link.

Diversification does not assure a profit or protect against loss in a declining market.

Tax-adjusted returns are adjusted for taxes and sales charges and follow the SEC guidelines for calculating returns before sale of shares. The tax-adjusted return shows a fund's annualized after tax total return for the five- and 10-year periods, excluding any capital-gains effects that would result from selling the fund at the end of the period. To determine this figure, all income and short-term capital gains distributions are taxed at the maximum federal rate at the same time of distribution. Long-term capital gains are taxed at a 15% rate. The after tax portion is then reinvested in the fund. State and local taxes are ignored, and only the capital gains are adjusted for tax-exempt funds, as the income from these funds is nontaxable.

The Abraham Fortress Fund is distributed by IMST Distributors, LLC.

SALEM ABRAHAM, PRESIDENT

Salem Abraham is the President of Abraham Trading. Salem graduated cum laude from the University of Notre Dame in December 1987 with a bachelor's degree in finance. He began his investing career as a futures trader while still in college, using quantitative models to trade global futures markets beginning in 1987. Throughout his career, Salem has managed investments in stocks, bonds, options, derivatives, and private equity. He has held full membership seats at both the Chicago Mercantile Exchange and the Chicago Board of Trade. His first investment experiences were shared with his grandfather, who employed him to buy and sell distressed minerals and ranches in the Texas Panhandle in the late 80s. In total, Salem has bought and sold more than 200,000 acres of land and resources. He manages investments in oil and gas properties, wind rights and residential, commercial, and agricultural real estate properties.

Salem has served on nonprofit investment boards for over 25 years. From 1995 to 2014, he served on the Amarillo Area Foundation Investment Committee. From 2004 to 2021, he served on the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Investment Committee. He has assisted with both large and small nonprofit endowments, with portfolios ranging from $1 million to over $4 billion in assets. His experiences with large and small institutional investors have provided insights into the unique mandates and challenges of managing foundation and endowment portfolios of all sizes. Salem started the Pickens-Abraham Foundation with T. Boone Pickens in 2008. The foundation provided college scholarships to accomplished graduating seniors in the Texas Panhandle. The investment strategy that Salem used for his part of the foundation was the inspiration for the Abraham Fortress Fund strategy. After Pickens' death, the Pickens-Abraham Foundation dissolved, and Salem's share of the money became the Salem and Ruth Ann Abraham Foundation. The foundation provides education scholarships and donates to universities, family services, children's causes, and health services.

Salem has been featured in Michael Covel's books The Complete TurtleTrader and Trend Following. He has also appeared in Bloomberg Markets, Absolute Return, Barron's, Institutional Investor, and The New York Times. He continues to lead the research efforts at ATC.

CENTRE FOR FIDUCIARY EXCELLENCE

Fortress Investment Philosophy

I wanted to build a portfolio that strived for consistent, attractive returns without taking on large amounts of risk. I decided to do away with investment dogma and follow the math.

Based on our research, we believe properly balancing non correlated investments is the key to building a portfolio that offers a good opportunity for profitable returns. This is the principle on which we built the Fortress Fund.

-Salem Abraham

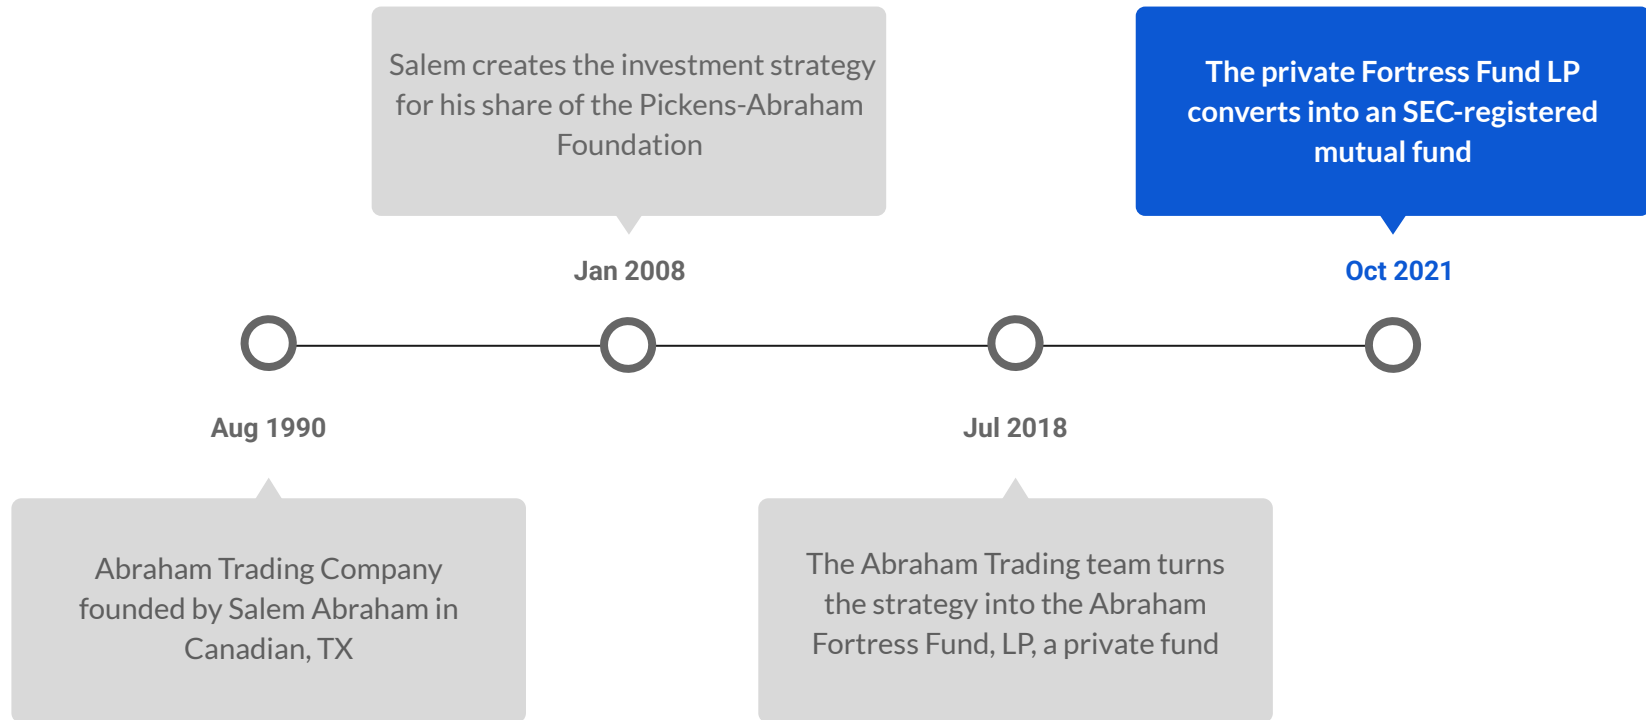

The Fortress Fund Story

The idea for the Fortress Fund grew out of Salem's experience as an investment committee member for endowments and foundations and his experience with his own foundation. In 2008, Salem partnered with T. Boone Pickens to create the Pickens Abraham Foundation, a scholarship endowment fund for graduating high school seniors in the Texas Panhandle. Salem knew that endowment and foundation portfolios have a tendency to do well in good times and poorly in bad times. For his half of the Pickens-Abraham Foundation, Salem wanted to try to construct a portfolio that was effective regardless of movement in equities, interest rates, or other traditional investment classes.

Based on his research, Salem discovered that a balanced, multi-asset approach seemed to improve his ability to protect and grow his part of the foundation's portfolio. The portfolio included stocks, bonds, and institutional-quality hedge funds, as most institutional portfolios do, but the secret was in the recipe: using sound math to balance those investments with the goal of producing consistent returns and mitigating losses. This investment strategy became the Abraham Fortress Fund, LP, in July 2018 (the "Predecessor Fund"). The LP converted into a SEC-registered mutual fund in October 2021.

Fortress Timeline

Fund Methodology

The Fortress Fund seeks to protect capital and achieve long-term capital appreciation. It seeks to create a balanced portfolio by allocating investments among various asset classes in an attempt to protect and grow Fund capital.

Fund Portfolio

The Fortress Fund is a diversified, multi-asset mutual fund. The key difference between the Fortress Fund and typical investment portfolios is capped equity risk and the addition of diversifying strategies.

EQUITY	+	FIXED INCOME	+	DIVERSIFYING STRATEGIES
40-60% exposure in equities comprised of stocks of issuers of any market capitalization in the US, and/or outside of the US, and derivative instruments such as futures, options or swaps on equity securities or equity indices;		10-30% in fixed income securities (generally with greater than 5 years of remaining maturity) issued by the US government, other sovereign bonds, and any investment grade bonds		10-30% in a diversified portfolio of trading strategies/programs managed by one or more trading advisors including the Advisor (the "Diversifying Strategies") through investments in securities or derivatives—such as futures, swaps, or options—either directly or indirectly through the fund or its subsidiary. The fund through its subsidiary will also generally have a 0-15% long gold exposure through commodity linked derivatives and/or exchanged-traded funds (ETFs)

Selection Process for Diversifying Strategies

Research

The Abraham research team analyzes each investment on a qualitative and quantitative basis. We look for:

- 10+ year track record
- Excellent reputation
- Systematic risk management
- Strong operational processes
- Diversifying trading strategies and programs
- Liquidity
- Reasonable/appropriate fees

Selection

The investment committee reviews trading strategies and programs that appear to meet our qualitative and quantitative standards.

Each committee member must approve an investment before that investment is added to the strategy.

The committee meets regularly to review the strategy and the portfolio.

Oversight

The Abraham research team and investment committee conduct ongoing investment and operational oversight of the Fortress portfolio. Why is a trading strategy or program removed from Fortress? A few examples include:

- Changes in critical operational processes, especially oversight from administrative and auditing firms
- Departure of key personnel
- Style drift (quantitative basis)
- Negative (or positive) returns beyond expected return distribution
